ON POINT WITH CYTOPOINT.[®]

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

What to expect after your dog's first treatment

Your dog just received their first Cytopoint injection—great choice! Here's what you need to know about your dog's journey to allergic relief:

- Relief typically begins within 24 hours
- One injection provides 4 to 8 weeks of relief
- Some dogs benefit from a second or third treatment for maximum itch relief

Common questions after your dog's first treatment

Q: "When will I notice a difference?"

- A: Your dog should start feeling better within the first day. You might notice:
- Less scratching and licking
 - Better sleep patterns
 - More playful behaviour
 - Improved mood

Q: "What if I don't see changes right away?"

- A: Each dog responds differently. Some dogs need a second or third treatment to get maximum relief.

Q: "Can my dog return to normal activities?"

- A: Yes! Your dog can:
- Play and exercise as usual
 - Go to the dog park
 - Take baths or swim
 - Enjoy their regular routine

Q: "Will my dog experience side effects?"

- A: Cytopoint is a unique antibody therapy that only targets itch. It functions like naturally occurring antibodies and is eliminated like other proteins without the involvement of the liver and kidneys.

Q: "Can my dog continue to take other medications?"

- A: Yes! Cytopoint can be used in dogs taking other medications. Always inform your vet about any medications your dog is taking.
